ANALYST NOTE

Hera local LLM

The +40.41% return on LPG looks attractive, but the strategy lacks statistical significance with only three trades. A 66.7% win rate is meaningless at this sample size, and the 21.82% max drawdown reveals high volatility relative to the Sharpe ratio of 1.10. The results likely reflect luck rather than a robust edge, making the current model unreliable for live deployment. Increase the backtest period to include at least fifty trades to establish a valid confidence interval before considering any further optimization.
