ANALYST NOTE

Hera local LLM

The strategy failed decisively, losing 32.73 percent of capital with a zero percent win rate across only four trades. A Sharpe ratio of negative 1.13 and a severe 45.89 percent drawdown indicate consistent losses rather than market noise. The sample size is statistically insignificant, so these results reflect poor execution rather than a robust market signal. The next step is to discard this configuration and redesign the entry logic to require higher probability setups before risking capital.
