ANALYST NOTEHera local LLM

The EVO_GG1RSISNIP_v16 backtest on AMD shows an 87.88% ROI and 1.61 Sharpe, yet only two trades make the results statistically insignificant. A 26.05% drawdown coupled with a flat 50% win rate suggests the strategy lacks robustness outside the current regime. The high return stems from asymmetric winners rather than consistent execution, which is unsustainable over time. We must stress-test parameters across multiple market cycles before deployment.
